English translation:

- Question: Wanted to ask you where and when you serve privately as I would like to come to talk to you.
- Psychiatrist Hector Cutajar: I excuse myself to have taken so long to reply but we ended with a backlog at hospital as you can imagine. I serve at Chemimart Hamrun Monday and Friday from 4-6pm and on Wednesday I am at Chemimart Floriana from 4-6pm. My number is 79057734 and it is better to phone me to make an appointment directly with me.

Note how first he replied on Wed 25-Mar-2020, 9 days later, with an email full of spelling mistakes and then replied again 3 days later on Sat 28-Mar-20 with the mistakes corrected maybe hoping he will arouse again the interest of this client to seek his services after failing to contact him. For the corrupt he is as confirmed by this email, when asked on email address hector.cutajar@gov.mt of his supposed full time job with the Government paid by the taxpayer (in fact he is mentioning the "backlog at hospital"), regarding where he serves privately, his insatiable greed for money made him forget that in this role he is obliged to devote his working hours to the service of his employer the Government, he shouldn't even have replied to this email not related to his work (note how he probably forwarded the email he received on hector.cutajar@gov.mt to his other private email address ittabib@gmail.com and gave his reply from this address so as not to incriminate himself. Yet he got caught from the date and time of the originating email listed as "March 16, 2020, 02:59 PM GMT+1" and appears again in his reply as "16 Mar 2020, at 14:59." The sender for sure had no way of knowing his private address, namely ittabib@gmail.com, and ask yourself what is the purpose of using this email address when the intention behind the email was to incriminate him making him reply on the email address hector.cutajar@gov.mt – it is confirming he was fully aware he was doing something wrong and maybe thought in this way he would eliminate the evidence. When he replied again 3 days later he just sent the email to the sender address without using the Reply option so that the originating sending email does not appear attached). At most he should have informed the enquirer of the services he offers with the Government (is he indicating that the service he offers with the Government are of much lower quality than when sought privately?), and use other means, at his expense and when not on his workplace, to advertise his private practice where anyone interested can easily find. Of course don't expect the authorities to take any action against him on this (they will invent all excuses to excuse him) but I assure you if you had done something similar yourself a mere mortal it would have been a totally different story (they take all drastic actions to set an example). In this private practice he lists himself as a medical doctor, yet when he replied to the emails he kept the same subject namely "Psychiatric appointment." In this Mount Carmel Hospital (and maybe at Mater Dei Hospital) he works as a Psychiatrist as has been doing since long and is listed in the Government email addresses as "Hector Cutajar - Crisis Intervention Team - Basic Specialist Trainee 2".

Once again, if you are that mentally ill to go seek the services of a Psychiatrist, please remember not to take an empty wallet with you (let us say that maybe I am referring in particular to the expenses of pills he prescribes you, for even the clinic / pharmacist wants his share) and of course expect him to suggest you to go see him again and again (and again bring that wallet). It is my advice, I may be wrong, but if you are passing through a difficult time, rather than seek Psychiatric help and risk experience yourself the racket of abuses behind this so fake profession, why not first attempt to adopt an animal, in particular some cat, and you will be astonished how much it fills your life and home with joy. If you dislike the presence of an animal, it may be worthwhile to go ruin your life and your wallet at the hands of a Psychiatrist. But in the long run I am convinced you will regret it.

The following is the latest update. When I thought I have had enough of this cretin of Psychiatrist to make him fall to my bait, his insatiable greed for money and his sadistic pastime to experiment on his possible next victim made him fall to the temptation to give his luck another try, and guess what, he sent her an email again asking if she still wants to book an appointment. Let us hope this is more than enough to end ruining his career as a Psychiatrist and so much as a doctor once forever for the so fake he is and serve as an eye opener to everyone to NEVER TRUST A PSYCHIATRIST, because once you have to do with Psychiatry they will keep haunting you forever and ever.

Excuse me for not replying back and I appreciate that you kept me in your thoughts. I had ended how to say depressed once my mother passed away and began feeling more the effects of solitude to the point that I almost lost my job. But it happened that God made me encounter a kitten in the street where I live and had decided to keep it and it is really impressive the way it filled my life with its love and innocence. I think that kitten was which saved me because all of a sudden the sadness I used to have like passed away and if it was not for it I probably would have ended all my life taking pills and coming and going to hospital.
Thanks anyway and regards,

Note how for the complete cretin he is, this time he tried his luck using the email address hector.cutajar@gov.mt of his supposed full time job with the government, to further incriminate himself, maybe because he so much knows beforehand that no actions will ever be taken against him in a corrupt country since ever like Malta. So much he devotes his time in Hospital to promote his private practice with no less than 5 exchange of emails in a single morning. For a single salary is for sure not enough for Psychiatrists whose greed for more and more money has no limits. He for sure must be enjoying his time there having nothing to do and pocketing a salary anyway at taxpayer's expense. Also note how easy it is to invent something to a Psychiatrist (i.e. her mother passed away and adopted a kitten, you simply have to be creative) and he believes her without any suspicion, for a Psychiatrist pretends he can read your mind but at the end of the day he is that totally complete fake to not even being able to detect if you are so blatantly taking him for a ride, making him fall to your bait for the umpteenth time. Note also how he vilely asked her for personal information, to forward to him her Identity Card Number to keep for his records (he probably abuses his position by making use of some Government database where he can extract information on you by inputting your ID no., as otherwise her email address would have been more than enough "to keep for his records"), guess why, because once you see a Psychiatrist it is something that you will have to keep doing for all your life, it's like becoming entangled in a cobweb forever, and you simple become a number (the ID number), and another source to fatten their pockets by reducing you to an animal to experiment drugs on and make you even more dependent on them. When he said that by seeing a Psychiatrist does not mean she will be prescribed pills or end hospitalized, it is just there to sugar the pill, to make her fall to the trap and give him a try, only that it will for sure end being that fatal mistake to ruin her life once forever. As always, NEVER EVER TRUST A PSYCHIATRIST.
